Strategic Director Diaspora Innovation & Development (Volunteer)

As strategy director for the Global African Innovation and Development Initiative, I coordinated strategic alliances and partnerships with Global African businesses looking to leverage capacities to become more competitive in the marketplace. Additional responsibilities included recruiting scholars and business executives to the NMBC think tank and responsible for developing the strategic vision for the NMBC Global Entrepreneurship Center. Fostered an entrepreneurial environment with a specific commitment to facilitating local innovation, technology transfer and commercialization.

Learning Curve USA (2012 – 2018) New York, NY

Advisor, Instructor, & Mentor (Volunteer)

Learning Curve is a STEAMD (STEM +Art & Design) entrepreneurship accelerator and impact investment fund. My responsibilities were to tackle financial insecurity faced by vulnerable/undervalued young people by rethinking how to best prepare and propel a latent workforce for economic and social opportunities in the STEAMD economy. Additional tasks were to strategize how to address the prevailing culture of the academy which is to devise “weed-out” STEAMD classes. Instead of jump-starting careers, the academy serves as the first major career barrier, especially for women and people of color. At Learning Curve, the “start-up” is the child. My job at Learning Curve was to cultivate a mindset for growth and evidenced-based entrepreneurship in STEAMD, not weed-out people and ideas. I equipped our teen entrepreneurs to be “founders” and actualize ventures that make them creators vs. consumers, job creators, not just jobseekers and inventors of a culture and economy not built on oppression and inequities.

Global Manager Director (2015 – 2021) New York, NY

Diaspora Innovation Institute (Ondo State, Nigeria)

Responsibilities include building and securing financing for an infrastructure supporting the Diaspora Executive Exchange Program, an initiative to resettle 1,00 expatriates each year to their home countries, and the Diaspora Campus Entrepreneurship Center.
